

REGIONAL ACCESS

This map illustrates how many jobs are within 45 minutes by transit from each point in the region. Data such as this can help Focus40 identify where there are gaps in the system. It can also help us better understand how access levels compare across community types and can help focus investments on improving access from low-income neighborhoods or other disadvantaged areas.

